

LEAVE A LEGACY OF COMPASSION

Your Love for Animals Can Live On

Your love for animals can live on.

A gift in your will can help future generations of pets receive affordable veterinary care, lifesaving spay/neuter services, rescue, and second chances.

Why Consider a Legacy Gift?

A gift through your estate is more than a financial contribution, it is a reflection of your values and the difference you want to make in the world.

Your legacy can help:

- Keep families together by providing affordable veterinary care.
- Prevent pet overpopulation through lifesaving spay and neuter surgeries.
- Rescue homeless cats and kittens and find them loving homes.
- Expand outreach services to underserved communities.
- Give future generations the opportunity to experience the joy of helping animals.

Planned Giving is for Everyone

Many people assume estate planning is only for the wealthy, but that's simply not true.

A legacy gift can be:

- A specific dollar amount
- A percentage of your estate
- The remainder of your estate after providing for loved ones
- A beneficiary designation on a retirement account or life insurance policy

Even a modest gift can make an extraordinary impact.

Common Questions

-  Do I need to be wealthy?
No. Legacy gifts come in all sizes.
-  Will my family still come first?
Absolutely.
-  Can I change my mind later?
Yes. Most gifts are revocable.
-  Do I need an attorney?
We recommend working with an attorney or qualified estate planning professional.

Suggested Bequest Language

If you wish to include Planned PETHood of Georgia in your will, you may share the following sample language with your attorney:

"I give, devise, and bequeath _____ (a specific dollar amount, percentage of my estate, or description of property) to Planned PETHood of Georgia, a nonprofit organization, to be used where the need is greatest in support of its mission."

Your attorney can help determine the wording that best fits your estate plan.
